

County Agent Gets Study of Concentrates

County agent should bring study to market to justify feed concentrates during the entire feeding period, points out County Agent C. W. Dalph.

That a conclusion of a test by the University of Idaho experiment station. The report was published this week. Copies of the study are on hand in the county agent's office. The authors are the same as the Caldwell branch station: T. B. Keith and W. P. LeVere. The study was based on the fact that feeders of beef cattle frequently find price situations in which the feeding of a concentrate mixture over a long period is too expensive to justify. Under other conditions, concentrates are generally cheaper than roughage. Dalph notes, "Chow silage and alfalfa hay are available in quantities. When a mixture of the two is fed, palatability of the ration increases."

The objectives of the study were to determine the maximum time roughage may be fed to fattening steers previous to use of concentrate, determine the length of time concentrate should be fed and to determine the kind and combination of roughages for best returns on fattening steers fed an all-roughage ration when fattening began.

It was found that steers fed concentrate mixture during the entire 168 days of the test made the most rapid gains. Steers fed the concentrate mixture for 140 days and fed 35 pounds of concentrate with the roughage the last 28 days made nearly 50 per cent more economical gains than steers eating concentrate with roughage the entire period. However, they needed about a month additional feeding with the roughage to reach the same weight as the concentrate mixture. Steers fed the concentrate mixture at the start of the fattening period and fed at a constant daily rate had a slightly higher market grade, the researchers said.

No differences in rate and economy of gains and market grades were observed between groups of steers fed 60 per cent corn silage in their roughage, compared with 75 per cent corn silage.

Pope Greets Vatican Callers

Power of Pope Less but His Influence Thought Stronger

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Associated Press Religion Writer

The power of the Roman Catholic pope today is not what it used to be. In many ways, the modern world has stripped him of one-time prerogatives. Yet, his influence is widely considered stronger than ever.

This is the strange characteristic of the office to which Angelo Cardinal Roncalli, Venice, was elected this week.

On the contemporary scales of international strength, generally measured in terms of armies and weapons, the pope doesn't rate a trifling. His little band of Vatican guards couldn't match "good" machinegun crew.

Yet his authority prevails and magnifies—despite the conventionally greater forces hurled against it through the centuries. That is the riddle of it all.

Many grand and imposing titles are conferred on the pope, and various ecclesiastical jargonisms, functions and honors accorded him. But when it comes down to the ordinary, concrete instruments of command and enforcement, he is powerless.

Unlike the bygone years when he crowned kings and emperors and could muster armed legions at a call, the pope today occupies a different—and perhaps more inviolable—kind of throne.

His sovereignty relies on unassailable factors, the things of the heart and mind, on the beliefs and faith of a half billion people. It's a power that utterly contradicts the accepted, worldly standards of the age.

In keeping with this paradox, he signs his official documents as a servant, not a master—"The Servant of the Servants of God."

Because of the nature of his authority, it is difficult to define. Perhaps it is best summed up in the words, "pope," which derives from the Latin "pater" and Greek "pappas," and means "father."

Extent of a father's mastery in his household usually is in proportion to the wisdom with which he exercises it. A family can always rebel.

Although written canons give the pope supremacy over church administration and doctrine, this authority is hemmed and hedged by customs and statutes.

As history indicates, he'd be in trouble if he sought to overstep them. "The pope is circumscribed . . . by the spirit and practice of the church, by respect due to general councils and to ancient statutes . . . by the rights of bishops," writes a noted church historian, Joseph Cardinal Hergenrother.

Nearest thing to an absolute papal power—and one which non-Catholics often criticize as smacking of spiritual autocracy—stems from the claim that the pope is infallible when defining explicit Christian doctrine.

Yes, even this authority is limited, both in theory and practice. First of all, a pope can't reverse dogma prescribed by the church in the past.

Also, his pronouncements are considered "infallible" and binding, only when he speaks formally and specifically to delineate precise teachings of faith or morals.

Besides, custom dictates that he consult bishops throughout the church before acting.

Church authorities say this ultimate authority, based on guidance of the Holy Spirit, is never used except when a traditional Christian teaching is challenged, or scholarship discovers a tenet of faith implied in the Bible.

In fact, it's so rare, Catholic theologians say, that only about 12 infallible dogmas have been proclaimed.

The late Pope Pius XII proclaimed only one—the doctrine of the assumption of Mary into Heaven body and soul. This came in 1950, after most Catholic bishops of the world advocated it, contending it had always been a church teaching.

Is This The "Freedom" You Want?

The proponents of the "right-to-work" initiative, backed without regard to Idaho's future economy by the self-seeking National Association of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in the East, frequently invoke "freedom" as their battle cry.

"Right-to-work" will give the workers of Idaho freedom, they say.

Freedom for what? And what kind of freedom?

"Freedom" to work without the protection of collective bargaining? "Freedom" to work at whatever low wage the employer chooses to dictate?

The "right-to-work" people talk glibly about freedom. But just what do they mean? And is their kind of "freedom" the freedom you want?

Let's take an honest look at freedom. If we are realistic, we know that there is no absolute freedom anywhere in this world. Even our own democratic freedom is freedom within defined limits of the common good. And those defined limits of freedom are the limits decided upon by the majority of people!

Are you free to run a red light, because you don't like traffic laws? Free to kill a man because you're in a killing mood? Free to deprive your children of their education . . . or to start a backyard bonfire in the dry season, when it might spark range fires?

The majority rule says, "NO!" You are not free to endanger the common good.

Oh, yes, the proponents of dishonestly labeled "right-to-work" give you "freedom" in large type—then take it away in small print!

There is no such thing as a "right" to a job. Our free enterprise system is built upon the freedom of choice for employer and employee. Without union security, the freedom of choice is lapsided in the employer's favor. But under "right-to-work" the worker would work under the terms set by the employer—or not at all!

Is this "freedom"?

On the other hand, union security DOES give the individual worker the highest degree of job protection and security ever known: pension, health and welfare plans, and protection for the older worker. Here is freedom AT WORK!

Actually, the sponsors of "right-to-work" are trying to destroy this form of protection—attacking our freedom to work under humane, beneficial conditions. And fair-minded Idaho employers will have no part of it! Because Idaho's labor-management record is, and has been for many years, that of peaceful cooperation!

There is no freedom without responsibility, either. Yet the proponents of "right-to-work" blithely disregard this fundamental principle of human rights, which is the very cornerstone of organized labor.

Indeed, without a thought as to Idaho's welfare, "right-to-work" actually proposes to upset Idaho's economic apple cart—weigh down Idaho people with LOW buying power!

Haven't we been through enough recession, already? Must we vote for a further recession in our Idaho earning power? . . . in our jobs? . . . in our scale of living?

Chamber Unit Scores Ads on Right to Work

With completion of labor statistics and has nothing to do with exempting farmers from any legislation, passed in 1937 by the state legislature.

Irvine termed the advertisement as "just another attempt to confuse the voters. There is no such thing as a right to work law," he said, "rather than try to answer those foolish things," he said.

The division reiterates its original stand on the issue.

Irvine, who for many years was state senator from Twin Falls county and recently declined to run for reelection, said he read to the group a letter from Gerald D. Morgan, special counsel to President Eisenhower, which said that the right to work law, executive secretary, Idaho Freedom to Work committee.

The letter is in response to a letter from Smith attempting to get President Eisenhower's "real views" on the right-to-work law, Irvine said. He said the president of the bill have taken out the president who were taken out of the bill to show, President Eisenhower's honest support such laws.

The letter from the President's assistant states, "So there is no question about the President's position, I quote from a letter the president wrote in response to a communication he received on this same subject: From 1953 onward I have been urged by the principal labor organizations and political figures who have described themselves as liberals to support a union shop provision. This would be effected by striking out section 14 (b) of the Taft-Hartley act, which has always retained this provision and continue to believe in the protection of the Taft-Hartley act, which gives the states jurisdiction to enact the so-called right to work laws.

Irvine said several state of the message have made no recommendation for federal action in this field. In view of the circumstances, I continue to believe that the states should have this right."

So far as is known, Morgan continues after quoting the president's letter, "the president has never expressed himself as a supporter of the right to work law."

The Agricultural division members heard a report from H. Schlatter and Nelson who attended the self-entitled research laboratory meeting Oct. 16 at Boise. He said representatives from Idaho, Washington and Oregon were present to give reports on the results of such a laboratory in the Pacific Northwest area. Only the necessity, he said, were discussed.

Mrs. Rodney Tegen, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce reported on a citizens' meeting held Oct. 18 at the Boise. She said a committee was appointed to further study the tax problem and make recommendations to the state legislature. She said 27 persons from the Twin Falls area attended the meeting.

Next meeting of the division will be a dinner to honor the Grassman and the H. Harris. The dinner will be held at the Idaho Legion hall, Jack Farrar will be master of ceremonies. The division members voted to have wives to attend the dinner at which a plaque will be awarded Harris.

Court Taking Appealed Suit Of Reporters

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UP)—The supreme court yesterday was asked to declare newspaper reporters have a constitutional right to refuse to reveal news sources.

The request was made in an appeal from the Fifth Circuit court of appeals in New Orleans. The court was asked to decide whether the government has the right to force newspaper reporters to reveal their sources of information.

The case arose from a suit filed by the government against several newspaper reporters who refused to reveal their sources of information in a case involving the activities of the Communist Party in the United States.

The government argued that the reporters' refusal to reveal their sources was a violation of the Espionage Act, which makes it a crime to disclose information that could be used to the detriment of the United States.

The reporters argued that their refusal to reveal their sources was a constitutional right under the First Amendment, which guarantees the freedom of the press.

The supreme court is expected to decide the case in the near future.

Halt of Magazine Mailings Canceled

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UP)—Two federal courts here yesterday stayed a department from interfering with further distribution of the November issue of Playboy magazine, declared by the postoffice general counsel as containing salable material.

The Chicago publishers obtained a temporary injunction against postal authorities from U. S. District Judge David A. Pine after a brief hearing at which the postoffice department was represented by both its own attorneys and the Justice department.

The government attorneys took an immediate appeal to a panel of the U. S. court of appeals with reference to vacate the U. S. district court order.

Sentence Imposed

HAILEY, Oct. 31 (UP)—Vern Hadden, Spokane, Wash., was sentenced to not more than five years in the state penitentiary Thursday by Judge D. H. Stupphen in fourth judicial district court here.

Hadden was charged on Aug. 27 by Max Teca, manager of the Chicago Inger Inn, Sun Valley, with giving the inn a no-account check for $250.

A 12-member jury found Hadden guilty Tuesday.

4 Die, 9 Hurt By Cleveland Factory Blast

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31 (UP)—Four persons were killed and nine injured yesterday in an explosion and flash fire that sent poisonous fumes through an East Side factory.

Twenty-five firemen and two policemen who inhaled the fumes during rescue operations at the plant of Shrock Products, Inc., were taken to hospitals for oxygen treatment.

Dead Identified

The dead were identified as William Ray, 35, a research worker; Melvin Redick, 35, chemist; Ronald E. Turner, 22, laboratory technician, and Nate Hambley, 42, a laborer who had been employed at the plant only three days.

Mrs. Hatlie Redick, pregnant wife of one of the victims and a bookkeeper at Shrock Products, Inc., saw her husband's body carried from the smoke-filled factory.

Cause of explosion was not determined immediately. It occurred on the first floor of the three-story brick building where 15 persons were employed in research and mixing operations.

Damage to $50,000

Fire Chief Elmer Cain estimated the damage at $50,000, but E. B. Neff, president of the firm, said the figure may reach $100,000.

The toxic fumes were generated by copper oxide powder which workers were putting into small plastic capsules for use in electrical signaling devices.

The plant manufactures are welding equipment and railway signal devices. It employs more than 100 workers, including about 40 women.

Gambling Attacked

MIAMI BEACH, Oct. 31 (UP)—Gov. Leroy Collins renewed his attack on gambling Wednesday night and said he will vigorously fight to stamp out any Florida city into another Las Vegas.

Collins did not refer directly to a move by the Miami city commission recently to legalize casino gambling. But he told the annual convention of the Florida Motel Association that he would fight to keep the state a clean state.

Rigby Hunter Is Wounded By Shot

RIGBY, Oct. 31 (UP)—A shot apparently fired at a nearby deer killed Herbert Schreffer in the hospital yesterday.

Schreffer, 56, Rigby, was hunting with his wife and a friend about 60 miles northeast of Rigby yesterday morning when the group stopped to eat lunch.

Mrs. Schreffer said they saw a deer just before her husband was hit by a rifle bullet. Schreffer was sitting in a jeep when he was hit. The bullet entered his chest and plunged on a downward course into his back.

Pat A. Holden, Clark county sheriff, was investigating the accident. He said he had no clue as to who fired the shot.

Schreffer was listed in "good" condition at a Rigby hospital.

Stevenson Is Blasting Ike As Poor Chief

CHICAGO, Oct. 31 (UPI)—Adlai Stevenson, striking at the "failure of White House leadership," left Chicago for Minneapolis today to campaign for Minnesota Democrats.

The twice-defeated candidate for president charged here last night that Republican congressmen were too placed in their acceptance of the Eisenhower administration's claims that "all was well at home and abroad."

Stevenson, who has been campaigning for Democrats as titular head of his party, also accused Republicans of defeating the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the last congress, thus denying GOP charges that Democrats caused the bill's death.

The bill, he said, "would have given honest workmen a chance to drive out the racketeers who have infiltrated some unions."

Byrd's Opponent Sees Win Chance

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (UPI)—Louis O. Wenzel, a lady physician and mother of five, shrugged off the politeness often and claimed a "good chance" of upsetting Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia, next Tuesday.

The attractive 39-year-old brunette said she expects "surprising" large support from Virginia voters who are fed up with the state's massive resistance to school integration.

"Nobody believed it would really happen," she said of the classroom shut-downs. "Now people know that massive resistance won't work."

Most politeness believe that Byrd, a 71-year-old veteran of the political wars, is a shoe-in to retain the senate seat he has held comfortably for 25 years.

Dworshak, Cenarrusa Inspect Progress On Little Wood River Reservoir Work

CAREY, Oct. 31—Progress on construction to increase the capacity of Little Wood river reservoir was inspected this week by Sen. Henry Dworshak, who was accompanied by Pete Cenarrusa, Carey.

This dam is being raised 45 feet to provide supplemental water for 10,000 acres of land around Carey. No new land will be irrigated with the 3,000 acre foot of water. The new structure will impound capacity of the former reservoir was 12,000 acre feet.

Until now, construction crews have been widening the base of the dam in preparation for increasing the height. As of Saturday, engineers expect to have the widened base up to the old height.

James Sims, construction engineer from the firm of Hopkins and Sims, Pasco, Wash., showed Cenarrusa and Dworshak around the project. Work was started early this year.

Dietrich Citizens Report Journeys

DIEBTRICH, Oct. 31 — Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Nelson were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Nelson.

Mrs. Belle Knowles has returned home after spending 10 days with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Bassett.

Week-end guests at the J. H. Burges home where Mrs. Burges's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Burger, Idaho Falls, Mr. and Mrs. John Millard visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Baker. Bales over the week-end, The Millards, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Baker, attended a wedding reception in Weiser for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hendry. Hendry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendry, former Dietrich residents.

and is expected to be done by late summer.

Cenarrusa, state senator from Blaine county, reported Congress. He said the inspection trip, too, but had a previous engagement. Cenarrusa pointed out the bureau of reclamation added funds for the project because of requests from Representative Burges and Senator Dworshak.

But Representative Burges decided all the credit for his work on the authorization bill, Cenarrusa notes. He points out that Burges worked "against overwhelming odds" in the Democratic-controlled congress on the final day of the second session of the 84th congress to gain passage of the bill.

On the unusual maneuver in the house, Cenarrusa quotes Representative McCormack, D. Miss., from the Congressional Record. McCormack said, "I want my Democratic friends to understand just what has happened. It is the first time in 28 years I have been a member of congress that a motion of this kind has been made to call up a rule which has a preferential status under the rules of the house."

The Choice is up to YOU

FREEDOM OR FORCE?

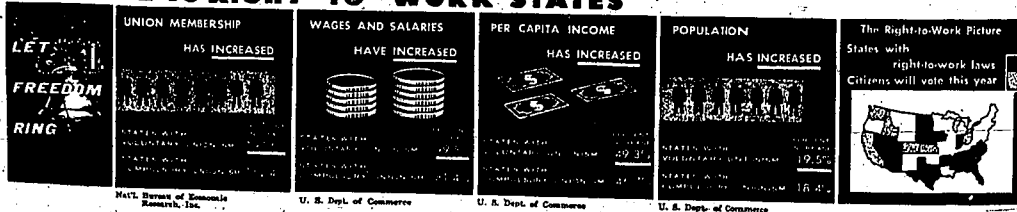

ON NOVEMBER 4th YOU will have the opportunity to restore Freedom of Choice to Idaho . . . by voting "yes" on the Freedom to Work initiative. The issue is simple and clear . . . the fundamental question of whether or not an individual, any individual, shall be COMPELLED to join, or not to join, a labor organization as a condition of his employment.

MORE MONEY. than has ever been expended in the state of Idaho for a political candidate or for an issue is being poured into the state in a desperate attempt to keep union members in bondage. And by whom? By union bosses who fear the Right to Work because it takes away their power to control the lives of union members through compulsory unionism! The result is an expensive campaign of deliberate misrepresentation and distortion of the truth . . . a campaign prepared and directed by dictatorial union bosses . . . and not by Idahoans.

WE URGE YOU to study the graphs below for the facts about Right to Work laws in other states. Official Department of Labor and Department of Commerce statistics prove conclusively that Right to Work laws have brought increased prosperity to the 18 states that have such laws. The "scare" campaign of those who oppose Right to Work can be seen for what it is . . . A HALLOWEEN MASK OF TRICKERY DESIGNED TO CONFUSE THE VOTERS OF IDAHO:

IN THE 18 RIGHT-TO-WORK STATES

SO THE RECORD may be clear, the Freedom to Work movement in Idaho is strictly an Idaho campaign — Idaho-sponsored, Idaho-financed and conducted entirely by conscientious Idaho citizens who believe in freedom for the individual. The total out-of-state contribution to our campaign amounts to exactly EIGHT DOLLARS. The rest of the contributions have come from Idahoans in all walks of life . . . men and women who share one basic belief that all Idaho people should have the freedom of choice . . . and the right to work.

IF YOU BELIEVE that freedom cannot be a part-time privilege in a free America . . . if you believe in being 100% for freedom . . . then you'll vote for "100" . . . "Yes" on the Freedom to Work initiative. Be sure you are registered . . . be sure you vote . . . and when you vote, remember — WHEN YOU ENTER THE VOTING BOOTH, FORCE AND COERCION CANNOT ENTER WITH YOU!

Burley Rotary Hears Talk by T. F. Attorney

BURLEY, Oct. 31.—The problem of juvenile delinquency in general and in particular was discussed at the Tuesday noon meeting of the Burley Rotary club.

James Cunningham, prosecuting attorney for Twin Falls county, said he was reporting basic truths learned through the handling of 123 juvenile delinquency cases in his office. He cited a number of the more aggravated cases to illustrate details of youthful exploits.

The newspapers and national media have caused us to jump to conclusions," Cunningham said, "and this conclusion is that the youth of our country—or Idaho—are running straight on the road to crime."

Caustic critics of the rising juvenile problem, he stated, are advocating the turning of the problem over to experts and authorities.

"This is just as logical," he explained, "as to expect the lawyers to turn out bright, shining, square-jawed youngsters. And there are those who think there is actually such a law in effect."

Cunningham said in his opinion, the juvenile delinquency problem is a home problem. The parents are those unwilling to solve their own home problems. He added that the lawyers are willing to help in a solution of juvenile delinquency "but at a price, of course."

According to Cunningham, it is all right to the child or youth giving proper attention and love in the home. This warding off experts and psychiatrists care, he reminded the audience, does not mean the child is not in the hands of the law. The best place to produce good citizens, he emphasized, is in the home. But too often our homes are not only fundamentally—giving the child all the creature physical needs, love and the teaching of essentials of moral values in the home.

70 Passengers Get Free Ride Aboard Train

LONDON, Oct. 31 (U.P.)—A London subway train roared happily along the Piccadilly Line yesterday, past station after station—with 70 excited passengers beating frantically at the locked doors.

The train driver didn't know they were there. He was just taking the train into the yard for repairs.

The 70 excited passengers tried to attract attention but the train sped through six stations and no one noticed.

Back at the suburban station known as Arsenal the train had developed a slight mechanical fault, and the conductor had given the "all change" order.

A crowd poured out all down the long line of cars, then the doors snapped shut and the train roared off. But 70 were in forward cars far from the conductor and didn't hear the call.

Finally one passenger broke into the communications tube which links the rear conductor's compartment to the driver in front of the train. He shouts to the surprised driver: "Bring the train to a halt at the Covent Garden station. Then 'all change'—a mile offed."

Accurate Tests For Finding of Cancer Shown

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31 (U.P.)—A New Jersey doctor has developed what appears to be a better than 85 percent accurate blood test for diagnosing carcinoma, the most prevalent form of cancer.

At least, reported Dr. Jack Makari, Muhlenberg Hospital, Plainfield, N. J., the test worked that effectively in a group of his own carcinoma patients.

Other tests reported produced a confirming report by a University of Belfast, Ireland, researcher who used Makari's blood test on a larger group.

Dr. Makari told about the blood test at the 86th annual meeting of the American Public Health Association.

Other cancer researchers, asked by reporters for comment said this and other developments reported by Dr. Makari need further exploration before a definite evaluation.

Test Used Before

Dr. Makari said the test is based on a method previously used in science to detect such things as tuberculosis and allergies, but has never, to his knowledge, been used to diagnose cancer.

However, he also reported development of a skin test which he said offered promise of detecting the possible presence of cancer of any type in apparently well people.

An exciting new kind of car! Makes history by making sense

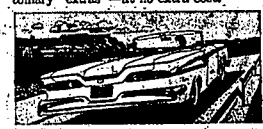

The car you hoped would happen! Looks right, works right. Priced right. Luxurious without overdoing it. Roomy without useless length. Powerful without hogging gas. Styled to last. Soundly engineered. Solidly built. Priced with the most popular three!

Add it up. You get solid new distinction rivalled only by cars costing much more! Bold new vertical grille. Strong new lines. Graceful new rear light deck.

You get beautiful new efficiency. Wonderfully spacious interiors—with less length outside. Six adults ride in comfort, but Edsel's compact 120-inch wheelbase fits any normal garage, swings easily in and out of tight spots.

You get lots of go for little gas. Pounds and pounds of useless car weight are gone. And four new Edsel engines are here! Including a thrifty six with a powerful test track record. And a new kind of economy V-8 that uses regular fuel and wrings big mileage from every ounce! You get all the magnificent quality that marks a superior car. Super-smooth ride. Big, self-adjusting brakes. Luxurious carpeting, electric clock and four other customary "extras"—at no extra cost.

Yet the challenging new 1959 Edsel is priced with the most popular three! For example, you'll find that a new Edsel Ranger is priced almost exactly the same as many models of Chevrolet, Plymouth and Ford. See for yourself—this comparison is actually based on the factory suggested list prices.

It's easy to see why this is the car that makes history by making sense. The new kind of car you've been waiting for. See it and drive it now at your Edsel Dealer. Ten history-making new models!

What's the REAL Purpose of a "RIGHT-TO-WORK" LAW?

Is It a RIGHT-TO-"WRECK" the Unions as Some Power-Hungry, Monopolist-Minded Labor Bosses Are Trying to Make Us Believe? ABSOLUTELY NOT! It's Merely an Attempt to Keep These Labor Bosses and Their Unions from Wrecking Our Economy.

THERE'S NO REASON TO BE CONFUSED BY Arguments Either "FOR" Or "AGAINST"

Consider the Following Logical Facts, Use Your Own Judgment and Vote Accordingly:

There is only one basic issue involved in Idaho's proposed Right-to-Work Law. It is simply the fundamental question of whether or not any individual shall be compelled to join or not to join a labor organization as a condition of his employment. It's the difference between voluntary membership through which the unions may become strong because of the services they have to offer and the new members they attract on the basis of such merit, as contrasted with compulsory membership. The latter not only gives the individual member little choice but even less voice, thus contributing to union abuses and unrestricted powers. The Right-to-Work Law is not designed to abolish labor unions. It will not deny employees the right to strike. Nor will it interfere with a labor union's right to bargain.

When the labor bosses tell us Right-to-Work laws will wreck the unions, hurt the farmers and ruin business, their arguments are anything but convincing. In the 18 states already having Right-to-Work Laws, membership in the labor unions has actually increased. Since when have they shown any concern for the farmers, business, or even the general public when it comes to regional and nation-wide strikes, secondary boycotts, jurisdictional disputes and other impositions and abuses to achieve their own selfish objectives?

The farmers—the very backbone of Magic Valley's economy—have no such powers to protect their interests. Neither have the business interests of Idaho. Either they remain competitive or they go broke. On the national level, with anti-trust laws and wage and hour regulations, the federal government prohibits capital and industry from becoming monopolies. Only the powerful labor monopoly enjoys the privilege of becoming strong enough to defy congress and the government itself, as Senator McClellan, chairman of the senate investigating committee, has pointed out, much to the disgust of millions of Americans.

If we're interested in creating a wholesome "climate" for the industrial development of Idaho, we should take note of the fact that General Electric Company, Boeing Aircraft Company and several other large industrial concerns are supporting a Right-to-Work Law, up for a vote in the state of Washington, Nov. 4. "The real issue," says General Electric, "is the freedom of choice by the individual to join, or not to join, a labor union as he sees fit without fear of coercion or loss of livelihood. GE prefers to deal with strong, representative and responsible unions . . . and we are convinced that Right-to-Work legislation, instead of weakening unions, will indeed add integrity, usefulness and the socially desirable kind of strength to our union organizations." The Spokane Spokesman-Review has joined in supporting a Right-to-Work Law because it "believes the union members and the majority of the other citizens of the state will be benefitted by the passage of such a law."

It should be apparent that the labor dictators already are bringing pressure to bear in Idaho. At a political rally in Twin Falls this week, Congressman Hamer Budge challenged his Democratic opponent to deny that the latter had received a $2,000 campaign donation from AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education. His opponent did not accept that challenge. Strangely enough, as Budge pointed out, that donation from union funds was used to defeat Glenn Dyer of Blackfoot in the primary election. Dyer, the only union man involved in the primary, was secretary-treasurer of the Plumbers and Steamfitters local out of Pocatello.

The people of Idaho should keep in mind that the principle of voluntary union membership had the support of one of America's greatest labor leaders—Samuel Gompers, founder of the American Federation of Labor. Said Gompers: "I want to urge devotion to the fundamentals of human liberty—the principles of voluntarism. No lasting gain has ever come from compulsion."

In spite of deliberate attempts to confuse the issue for obvious reasons, it should be apparent that Idaho needs a Right-to-Work Law for its own protection in the future.

Buffalo's 3-14 Win Over Columbia Nets Coach of Week Mod for Offenhamer

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 31 (UPI)—His team is rated as a small college but already has knocked off two Ivy League opponents and holds the record in the school's football history. That's the United Press International coach of the week, Dick Offenhamer, whose University of Buffalo team upset Columbia, 34-14, last Saturday and winning him new-found respect as one of college football's up-and-coming bright young men.

"I personally didn't think we had too much of a chance against Harvard in our season opener," Offenhamer said. "But I honestly felt we had a 50-50 chance to beat Columbia, and we were the underdogs."

But he was not the underdog. In five Buffalo's fourth victory in five games this season against a schedule that's tougher than the one they have taken on in past years. Since the 44-year-old Offenhamer became head coach in 1955, his team has won 18 games, lost 14 and tied one.

Small college coaches have unusual problems, Offenhamer says. They have to be versatile, they have to be a night owl, they have to be a night owl, they have to be a night owl.

Kick Is Preferred to New Point-After Rule

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—College football's new two-point conversion rule has added nearly 200 points to scoring in major games so far this season. But that has only served to keep the overall scoring figures about even with last season. A mid-season survey by the National Collegiate Athletic Association service bureau showed an increase of 185 points through conversions over last year's statistics for a comparable period. But that actually has been offset by a decrease in the number of touchdowns, leaving the national scoring average at 14.4 points a game. The new rule awards two points for a conversion by running or passing and one point for a kick. Last year the conversion was worth only one point, no matter how it was made.

The NCAA surveyed the conversion attempt after 1,448 touchdowns scored in 322 games played by 109 major college teams through Oct. 25. Last season, it took the first 1,448 touchdowns made last season.

Total of 308 successful conversions in 1958, compared to 247 in 1957, the survey showed. The average was 1.13 points a game, compared to .97 last year. The survey also showed that the average number of touchdowns scored per game was 1.13, compared to 1.07 last year.

Another breakdown showed that only the East-10 team's highest scoring season, as far as this year—and the Pacific Coast—where scoring has been lowest—has shown a preference for the two-point play. The national average shows placements were tried after 51.4 per cent of the touchdowns.

From the start of the season up to a week ago, the two-point play was tried more frequently than the kick, but the margin dwindled each week. On Oct. 25, week-end, the kickers took over the lead.

Another breakdown showed that the new conversion rule would reduce the number of touchdowns and increase field goal attempts. Only nine major college games so far have ended in ties this year. Last season, 17 of 121 games ended in ties.

College Football Attendance Shows 3.49 Per Cent Increase This Fall

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (UPI)—College football attendance is up 3.49 per cent nationally and is on the increase in every section of the country except the East and the Midwest.

A United Press International mid-season survey of 118 colleges which have played a total of 322 games disclosed today that 7,944,155 spectators have jammed stadium seats in the country. This is an average of 24,671 per game at a 3.49 per cent increase over 1957 when total attendance was 7,652,498 at a corresponding stage of the season.

The Rocky Mountain area and the South show the largest increases and the midlands the biggest decrease. Rocky Mountain attendance, helped primarily by the Air Force Academy, increased 21.73 per cent while the South's attendance is up 8.70 per cent. Attendance in the midlands is down 6.83 per cent due mostly to a 26,000 drop experienced by the University of Missouri.

Attendance has increased 6.2 per cent of the Pacific Coast, 5.53 per cent in the northwest and is even up slightly (927 per cent) in the Midwest where sellout games are common place. The Midwest, of course, retains its sectional leadership with an average attendance of 35,000 for 63 games with no less than eight colleges averaging more than 50,000 per game.

The two individual leaders are Ohio State, averaging 82,000 per game, and Michigan, averaging 77,000.

An analysis by section: East: Attendance down 1.33 per cent with 17 of 23 colleges reporting decreases, minor in most cases. Pittsburgh leads with average of about 44,000 for its three home games.

South: 18 of 24 colleges report increased attendance. Among them are LSU, up 28,000 and averaging almost 58,000 per game. North Carolina, up 27,000 and Georgia Tech up 10,000. Miami has drawn 102,551 in two games compared to 90,223 in two games in 1957.

Midwest: Some 2,542,319 fans have viewed 63 games in a section which remains hotbed of football attendance. Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Wisconsin all are averaging 60,000 or more. Michigan and Purdue is averaging more than 45,000.

Vandal Boosters Have $1,731 for Fund Drive

A total of $1,731 for athletic support of the University of Idaho has been raised by the Twin Falls area Vandal Boosters, group secretary-treasurer Jim Blandford reported Thursday night. The returns are only for the early portion of the annual Vandal "Booster drive" that will continue through November.

Blandford reported that Blandford personally accounted for $1,200 of the total in a one-man drive.

The group usually aims at between $2,000 and $3,000 which is used solely for the purpose of promoting athletics at the state university. Most of the contributed money is used for athletic scholarships, one of the big problems facing all sports at the university.

Any interested persons or university alumni interested in contributing but not contacted may mail donations to John K. Anger, Vandal Booster president.

Following the financial report, films were shown of the Missouri-Idaho and Washington State-Idaho games.

The group did not discuss the annual Vandal basketball game which is held during each Christmas vacation at Twin Falls high school gymnasium. This year's basketball contest will be played Dec. 26.

Guzik Gives Credit to Coach, Team

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31 (AP)—John Guzik, Associated Press linebacker of the week, in a modest football game who calls himself a lucky and passes his laurels to coaches and teammates.

Pitt coach Johnny Michelosen describes him as the "big state kid" who "let off the field."

"He played real good football," Michelosen said. "He's very proficient at diagnosing plays."

Guzik, who has been learning of his selection by the Associated Press, Guzik said:

"I didn't expect it. I played against a real good team in the Air Force game. I was a little bit nervous."

Guzik, 230-pound senior Guzik and linebacker, doesn't carry a lot of laurels around with him, but he insists he's earned them.

"I've been able to make more mistakes in the game than my teammates. The fellows in front of me are doing such a good job, I'm not sure I'm able to move from left to right in there and make the tackle."

Guzik attributes a great deal of his success to being able to make plays and credits Michelosen with helping him become an expert at the trick.

Just like any other good school kid, Guzik dreamed of becoming an All-America football player someday.

Guzik, who will graduate from the school of business administration in February, hopes to make the grade in professional football. He was the fourth draft selection of the Los Angeles Rams last year.

Pettit Leads Pro League in Scoring

By The Associated Press
Bob Pettit still is the same Bob Pettit of last season. For the St. Louis Hawks that is good news. For their rivals in the National Basketball Association it is bad.

Pettit tallied 37 points for three games to 91 at the Hawks defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 112-90 and took over first place in the western division. Last season Pettit was the league's third ranking scorer with a game average of 24.8 points.

The former Louisiana All-American hit on 15 of his 23 field goals attempts and paced the Hawks fourth-place scorer. He returned the game into a rout. The score was all-square at 38 going into the final quarter. Then Pettit made 10 of his 37 points to put the game out of reach of the Lakers.

McLemore Expects to Be Top Authority on Traveling Soon

By HENRY MCLEMORE
This is only the second day of the great trek, but already I have learned many things invaluable to anyone trying to cross from the Atlantic to the Pacific by car with a 3-month-old baby girl.

It would have been far simpler to have moved to California before Megan was born, than to have waited until she was here and then undertaken the journey. I have also learned that there is no use in trying to hurry. I was optimistic when we set out yesterday—the three of us, plus the poodle, are jammed into a sports car about as big as a bureau drawer.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE
Humor said the closely guarded group was a picked cross-section of the Air Force's best men...

the top pilots, navigators, bombardiers and crewmen. They were based at the 14th Air Force, in the Philippines, in the days of the war.

They flew the B-29 Superfortresses. Regularly the group went out on bombing runs over Japan. The danger factor was that, each time, they dropped only one bomb. All that secrecy, all that massive preparation, and they only dropped a single bomb that didn't do much damage.

Then came August 9th. The group flew again, carrying one bomb... a bomb that wasn't even assembled until the plane arriving it was in flight. All the careful planning and drilling led to this one moment.

Over Hiroshima. The B-29 Superfortresses, the Bomb Group, exploded. A giant mushroom rose above the obliterated city.

And the Atom Bomb, the world's destiny had changed.

Remember the year from all over the world, America's first atomic bombing home last year.
